EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

We might be biased, but we think our team is the best. This month we're highlighting a member of our Development team:

PRASHANT RAO

Our dev team members work diligently behind the scenes as software architect wizards. They write the code for our application and ensure that app features are functioning as they should.

Prior to joining DocNetwork, Prashant worked as an Internet of Things (IoT) research engineer at Ford. But that's not all.

He also dabbled in fashion design, and he continues to bring the most stylish and fabulously creative outfits to work everyday.

A full stack developer and UX subject matter expert on the mighty 'tenacious dev' team, Prashant brings a wealth of knowledge and personal style to DocNetwork.

Fun Fact: Prashant owns 13 keyboards (?!), and one of his passion projects is to build a computer (CyberDeck) that looks like it is straight out of the 50s/60s.

We are here for it!

ORGANIZATION SPOTLIGHT

Christodora

Serving New York City youth since 1897, Christodora: Nature, Learning, Leadership is a nonprofit organization that provides opportunities for youth to learn about the environment and experience the natural world first-hand in and outside of New York City.

Christodora uses the transformative power of nature and stimulating educational outdoor programs to encourage positive academic and developmental growth of inner-city youth. Working in public school classrooms, community service programs, the Berkshire Mountains, and with numerous partner institutions, Christodora provides affordable programming to help students learn and grow through STEM.

Having been a student of the organization herself, Christodora's Outreach Coordinator and Environmental Educator Keilyn Ojeda is proud to work for Christodora and looks forward to providing impactful programming to new generations. 'I have been able to experience the growth of a multitude of students. I've seen students change from not liking the outdoors to being the first student to sign for our programs and activities!'

To learn more about their impactful work, head over to their website at christodora.org.

Our Leadership Team enjoyed the personalized experience we received during the CampDoc training session we participated in. The CampDoc team did a wonderful job before the session to make sure the needs of our team were heard in what we were specifically looking to be able to do. We were able to follow along and participate with the CampDoc crew during the session and ask questions along the way. The Leadership Team was able to benefit from the hands-on experience and felt much more comfortable using CampDoc going into the summer. With the variety of CampDoc experience we collectively had, we felt this training was very valuable, convenient and helpful for all of us!
